Get ready to learn, laugh, and have some fun seeing your child’s behavior from a different perspective. Bill Corbett’s workshops and classes help parents and professionals examine what they currently have in their “Discipline Toolboxes” and evaluate the fact that many of these tools are outdated or no longer work. Using lecture, humor, & video, he works closely with adults who raise or care for children by helping them rebuild their toolbox to make room for more effective tools and methods that truly work with today’s challenging child and teen. At the conclusion of his seminar, Bill will be signing copies of his new book *Love, Limits, & Lessons: A Parent’s Guide to Raising Cooperative Kids. A portion of the proceeds from book sales will be donated to Network Against Domestic Abuse (NADA).

ABOUT THE SPEAKER: Bill Corbett is the author of the book, “Love, Limits, & Lessons®” and founder of Cooperative Kids. He is a member of the American Psychological Association (APA), the National Children’s Alliance (NCA), and the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). Bill has a degree in psychology from University of Phoenix and his syndicated column on discipline appears in many parenting publications around the country. He grew up in Hatfield and is a 1976 graduate of Smith Academy. Bill has three adult children and two grandchildren and lives with his wife Elizabeth in Enfield, CT.
